Method 1-a

Rocky Mountain, Roosevelt, and Tule Elk. Alshansk, Izubr, Siberian and Tian Shan maral

Length: Measure the main beam antler on the center of the outside curve from the lowest edge of the burr to the tip. (L) The tape must not be pressed into the groove above the burr. The main beam end (tip) is normally the most rearward point.

Circumference: Measure the smallest circumference between the T1 and T2, T2 and T3, T3 and T4 and finally T4 and T5. (C1, C2, C3, C4) Circumferences can only be taken between typical tines. Place the total of the main beam length and the circumferences in A on the Method Form.

Typical Tines: Mark off all tines along the base. Measure the length of all typical tines of 1 inch or more with a base that is smaller than the tine length. Starting with the brow (T1) and work towards the tip. Measure from the point of the tine to the center of the baseline. (T1, T2, T3, etc.) Typical tines project from the main beam; forward (T1), sideward (T2, T3), and upward for the T4 and beyond. If a tine grows in a different direction, it is not typical. Place the total of all typical tines in B.

Span: Measure the widest distance between the center of the main beam antlers (not any tines) at a 90-degree angle to the long axis of the skull. (F) Place the measurement in C.

Nontypical Tines: Measure the length of all non-typical tines of 1 inch or more with a base that is smaller than the tine length. Start with the tine nearest to the burr and work towards the tip. (NT1, NT2, NT3). Non-typical tines grow sideways from the main beam, backwards and are tines off a tine. See Handbook for details. Place the total in E.

Rocky Mountain elk: take the non-typical score (E on the method form) and if it is 3% or more of the typical score (D on the method form) the trophy will be placed in the non-typical Rocky Mountain elk category. If not, it falls in the typical category.

Roosevelt elk, Tule elk and Alshansk, Izubr, Siberian and Tian Shan marals: add the D and E on the method form. This is the total score for the trophy. There are no non-typical categories.

Weight: Weigh the cleaned and boiled skull and antlers. Record whether the skull has been cut or not. (Supplemental)
