The Rowland Ward Fair-Chase Hunting & Conservation Award is a solid silver medal given once a year by Dallas Safari Club and the Rowland Ward Foundation for an outstanding animal hunted under free-range, fair-chase conditions.

One award is given for each of four regions:
Africa, Americas, Asia and the Pacific Islands, and Europe.

To qualify, the animals must have been hunted in accordance with Rowland Ward's Guiding Principles on Hunting and Conservation. The winner must be a strong supporter of conservation and sustainable hunting and exhibit exemplary ethics in the field.
