Method 1-a

Rocky Mountain, Roosevelt, and Tule Elk, Alshansk, Izubr, Siberian and Tian Shan maral

Length: Measure the main antler on the center of the outside curve from the lowest edge of the burr to the tip. (L) The tape must not be pressed into the groove above the burr. The main antler end (tip) is normally the most rearward point.

Circumference: Measure the smallest circumference between the T1 and T2, T2 and T3, T3 and T4 and finally T4 and T5. (C1, C2, C3, C4) Circumferences can only be taken between typical tines.

Typical Tines: Mark off all tines along the base. Measure the length of all typical tines of 1 inch or more with a base that is smaller than the tine length. Starting with the brow (T1) and work towards the tip. Measure from the point of the tine to the center of the baseline. (T1, T2, T3, etc.) Typical tines project from the main antler; forward (T1), sideward (T2, T3), and upward for the T4 and beyond. If a tine grows in a different direction, it is not typical. Do not measure (L), the main antler tip, again. Count all typical tines and the main antler points.

Span: Measure the widest distance between the center of the main antlers (not any tines) at a 90-degree angle to the long axis of the skull. (F) Add all the above and place in Typical Score (A).

Nontypical Tines: Measure the length of all nontypical tines of 1 inch or more with a base that is smaller than the tine length. Start with the nontypical tine nearest to the burr and work towards the tip. (NT1, NT2, NT3). Nontypical tines grow sideways or backwards from the main antlers and are tines off a tine. Add all NT tines and place in NT Tines (B). Count all nontypical tines.

Add (A) and (B) and place in Total Score.

Rocky Mountain elk: If the Total Score (B) is 3% greater (or more) than the Typical Score (A) the head will be placed in the nontypical Rocky Mountain elk category. If not, it falls in the typical category.

Roosevelt elk, Tule elk and Alshansk, Izubr, Siberian and Tian Shan marals: The sum of (A) and (B) is the Total Score for the trophy. There are no nontypical categories.

Outside Spread: Measure the widest outside spread at a right angle to the long axis of the skull. (G) This is required but not part of the score.

Weight: Weigh the cleaned and boiled skull and antlers. Record whether the skull has been cut or not. (Supplemental)

Reading the detailed online instructions in the RW Measurers Handbook is necessary
